                  G            Emi7
We were watching TV, Watching TV
                  G            Emi7
We were watching TV, Watching TV

Cadd9  A7
Cadd9  A7
Cadd9  C/B  A7  D

                 G                   Emi7
In Tiananmen Square, Lost my baby there
           G                              Emi7
My yellow rose, In her bloodstained clothes
          Cadd9        A7
She was a short order pastry chef
     Cadd9                      A7
In a Dim Sum dive on the Yangtze tideway
        Cadd9  G/B
She had shiny hair
           A7                        D
She was the daughter of an engineer
                 G                      Emi7
Won't you shed a tear, For my yellow rose
            G                          Emi7
My yellow rose, In her bloodstained clothes
        Cadd9                     A7
She had perfect breasts, She had high hopes
        Cadd9                 A7
She had almond eyes, She had yellow thighs
          C      C/B   A7      D
She was a student of philosophy
                       G   G/F#    Emi7
Won't you grieve with me, for my yellow rose,
            G  G/F#  Emi7           D
Shed a tear, For her bloodstained clothes
        G        G/F#       Emi7
She had shiny hair, She had perfect breasts
       Cadd9       C/B     A7          D
She had high hopes, She had almond eyes
        G           G/F#
She had yellow thighs
            Emi7                    D
She was the daughter of an engineer
                G                            C
So get out your pistols, Get out your stones
               G                             C
Get out your knives, Cut them to the bone
             G        G/F#       Emi7
They are the lackeys of the grocer's machine
               G                 C
They built the dark satanic mills
         G                     C
That manufacture hell on earth
                G        G/F#        Emi7
They bought the front row seats on Calvary
         C                D
They are irrelevant to me
```

And I grieve for my sister

People of China
Do not forget do not forget
The children who died for you
Long live the Republic
Did we do anything after this
I've a feeling we did

```
                  G            Emi7
We were watching TV, Watching TV
                  G            Emi7
We were watching TV, Watching TV
           Cadd9                        A7
She wore a white bandanna that said 'Freedom now'
               Cadd9
She thought the Great Wall of China
        A7
Would come tumbling down
G               G/F#
She was a student
     Emi7              D
Her father was an engineer
                  G                    Emi7
Won't you shed a tear, For my yellow rose
            G                          Emi7
My yellow rose, In her bloodstained clothes
    Cadd9               A7
Her grandpa fought old Chiang Kai-shek
    Cadd9               A7
That no-good low-down dirty rat
    C                 C/B
Who used to order his troops
    A7                  D
To fire on the women and children

Imagine that imagine that
  G                   Emi7
And in the spring of '48
  G                       Emi7
Mao Tse-tung got quite irate
  G               G/F#         Emi7
And he kicked that old dictator Chiang
           D
Out of the state of China
  G                           Emi7
Chiang Kai-shek came down in Formosa
G                             A7
And they armed the island of Quemoy
        G
And the shells were flying across the China Sea
         Emi7                  C           C/B    A7    D
And they turned Formosa into a shoe factory called Taiwan
           G                   Cadd9
And she is different from Cro-Magnon man
      G               Cadd9
She's different from Anne Boleyn
       G         G/F#        Emi7
She is different from the Rosenbergs
And from the unknown Jew
G                        Cadd9          G
```

She is different from the unknown Nicaraguan
Cadd9 G G/F#
Half superstar half victim
Emi7 Cadd9 D
She's a victor star conceptually new
G Cadd9
And she is different from the Dodo
G Cadd9
And from the Kankanbono
G G/F# Emi7
She is different from the Aztec
D
And from the Cherokee
G Cadd9
She's everybody's sister
G Cadd9
She's symbolic of our failure
G G/F# Emi7
She's the one in fifty million
Cadd9 D
Who can help us to be free
G
Because she died on TV
