Something More

Róisín Murphy

Give me something more
Gotta give me something more
Give me something more
I want it, I want it
Give me something more
Gotta give me something more
I want it, I want it, something more
Gotta give me something more
Give me something, give me something
Give me something more
Give me something more

A crown upon my head
Ten lovers in my bed
But I want something more
A billion in the bank
Titles of higher rank
But I want something more

A castle deep in Spain
More land than Charlemagne
And boys who ease the pain
An island out at sea
A house of luxury
And it's all named after me

Maybe this could be the last time
I feel the strain
Of what it's like to want everyone
And everything
Maybe this could be the last time
I feel the strain
Of what it is to want everyone
And everything

Life just keeps me wanting

A crown upon my head
Young lovers in my bed
But I want something more
A private restaurant
Serving every dish I want but
I want something more

Maybe this could be the last time
I feel the strain
Of what it's like to want everyone
And everything
Maybe this could be the last time
I feel the strain
Of what it is to want everyone

I want it all, yes, all the cake
I live my life with no regret
I put it all at stake
And if it all goes up in flames

I will only ever have myself to blame
I want it all, yes, all the cake
I live my life the way I want
I own my mistakes

Myself to blame, oh
I want it, I want it, I want it, something more
I needed something more
I want something more
I wanted something more
I needed, I needed something more
I want something more
I want something more
Give me something, give me something more
I want something more
Give me something more
Give me something more
I want something more
I want something more
