

Changes Happen

Roman Lob

I know that after we laugh
Hard times are keeping me up all night
I've got this feeling inside
Whatever I give is never enough

Can't stop thinking about it
Which way to go from here
Sometimes my vision is clouded
But then again it seems so clear

Changes happen, life changes every second
And even if it rains for me, I know things will get better
Changes happen in every little second
I look into the sky and see the rain
Rain won't last forever
Rain won't last forever

What's lately bothered your mind
Cause I've seen it in your face?
What are you trying to find
In that lonesome distant place?

Don't waste your time on tomorrow
Just keep it here and now
Your heart knows the way it should follow
If you've lost your way somehow

Changes happen, life changes every second
And even if it rains for me, I know things will get better
Changes happen in every little second
I look into the sky and see the rain
Rain won't last forever
Rain won't last forever

It's a simple question
How much time you want erased?
Life can change me in a second
It all special kind of ways

Changes happen, life changes every second
And even if it rains for me, I know things will get better
Changes happen in every little second
I look into the sky and see the rain
Rain won't last forever
Rain won't last forever

Rain won't last forever
Rain won't last forever
Rain won't last forever
Rain won't last forever
