

White Sweater

Romeo Void

In my dream, I always test myself
I race through swamps
Snakes wrapped around my legs
A hot towel of muscle
In my dream

I watch my sister fall down
An elevator shaft
She was even wearing her new
Shag haircut and a limp white sweater
That I, I, I, I gave her

Moving as if someone was pulling a pink
Sliver out of her cold body

I went on a blind date
We sat in the back seat
He thought he could free me
Didn't know I could be mean

Till he shoved my face down
I gave him my left knee
I knew he was stupid
But I needed a replacement
I'm not gonna call you when I'm lonely

Not gonna call you when I'm lonely
Lonely, not gonna call you when I'm lonely

In my dream, I always test myself
I race through swamps
Snakes wrapped around my legs
A hot towel of muscle
In my dream

I watch my sister fall down
An elevator shaft
She was even wearing her new
Shag haircut and a limp white sweater
That I, I, I, I gave her

Moving as if someone was pulling a pink
Sliver out of her cold body
