

Goodbye

Ron Pope

We've been flirting with disaster now
I don't know if we can turn this one around
We used to spend our days in laughter but somehow
It seems that I can only bring you down

I know that time is not on our side
If it's too late, no more tears to cry
I wonder why we never decide
To say goodbye, goodbye, goodbye

I know that you don't like to compromise
You always seem to get your way
But if you'd take a little of your own advice
Love it seems you'd rather throw it all away

If there's one thing I don't understand
It's what you thought you'd get from me
When you're lonely and I'm far away
I bet you'll miss my company

I know that time is not on our side
If it's too late, no more tears to cry
I wonder why we never decide
To say goodbye, goodbye, goodbye

I know that time is not on our side
If it's too late, no more tears to cry
I wonder why we never decide
To say goodbye, goodbye, goodbye
