

Sometimes

Ron Pope

One day my past will be much longer than my future so while I'm here I guess I'll make my noise as we are screamin' down the high way taking chances I think I'll give just enough then give some more and every friend I've ever had I took for granted a lesson that you can't learn standing still cause when you want a better view of the horizon sometimes you gotta break a sweat climbing that hill so raise your hands
and celebrate with me
and raise your voice
and sing along oh please
and raise your glass
cause we all could use a drink sometimes celebrate cause life is fine there was a moment standing with my younger brother as the radio played we both sang along and I thought brother I'm so thankful for this memory cause it's all you'll carry with you when I'm gone
I do my best to breathe in deep and smell the roses although it's hard for me to move that slow sometimes and as the moments keep on rolling towards forever I am thankful for the beauty in my life
so raise your hands
so raise your hands
