

Love Will Remain

Ronan Keating

Sometimes, I think about the promises we made back then
Our love was innocent, the type of love that never ends
Two hearts so full of wishes, ready to run the distance, oh, oh
Some days, I think I'll never ever get the courage, love
To be the man that you need, I'll never be enough
I'll spend each day and night provin' that you were right, oh, oh

And no matter what we go through
I'll always wake up right beside you

When our leaves have started fallin'
And our edges start to fray
And the years gone by are no longer kind
And the memories start to fade
Our love will still remain
Our love will still remain

No, I'm not promisin' there won't be hurt, there won't be tears
I know our love will still be crazy after all these years
And I'll throw my whole heart in, always for you, my darling
Oh, I want you to know

That no matter what we go through
I'll always wake up right beside you

When our leaves have started fallin'
And our edges start to fray
And the years gone by are no longer kind
And the memories start to fade
Our love will still remain
Our love will still remain

Watch the sky fall, once they crumble
Hold my hand, lose the ground beneath our feet
Come what may, our love will still remain

When our leaves have started fallin'
And our edges start to fray
And the years gone by are no longer kind
And the memories start to fade
When our leaves have started fallin'
And our edges start to fray
And the years gone by are no longer kind
And the memories start to fade
Our love will still remain
I still want you
Our love will still remain
I still need you
Our love will still remain
I still love you
Our love will still remain, oh
