

Only Lovers

Ronan Keating

We were born right here, where the mad ones go
On the edge of town, on the verge of love
And we grew up like this, riding bicycles
We were born right here, now it's time to go

All of what was broken, all off what was frail here
All the words we've spoken, we can leave it all behind

If we run like we are made of light, like we are worth the fight
I think we are the only lovers left alive
Run, go faster, take my hand, don't linger, don't look down
I think we are the only lovers left alive

Ooh-woah, ooh-woah, ooh-woah

I know you're afraid, I have seen you cried
But you are not alone, and we will never die

All of what was broken, all off what was frail here
All the words we've spoken, we can leave it all behind

If we run like we are made of light, like we are worth the fight
I think we are the only lovers left alive
Run, go faster, take my hand, don't linger, don't look down
I think we are the only lovers left alive

Ooh-woah, ooh-woah, ooh-woah, ooh-woah

You are mine, let the stars align
Let me show you where we could go, follow the river, oh
Be mine, leave the pain behind and lift off, just lift off

And we can run like we are made of light, like we are worth the fight
I think we are the only lovers left alive
Run, go faster, take my hand, don't linger, don't look down
I think we are the only lovers left alive

Ooh-woah, ooh-woah, ooh-woah

We are the only lovers left alive

Run (Ooh)
Run (Ooh)
