

This Time Last Year

Ronnie Milsap

This time last year
If anyone would have told me you'd be gone
I'd have said they were crazy
And this time last year
If anyone would have told me you'd love another
I'd have said not my baby

If someone would have said I'd be lyin' here alone
With no address to find you and no number to phone
I would have never believed it, my dear
This time last year

And this time last year
If anyone would have told me you'd be gone
I'd have walked away laughing
And this time last year
If anyone would have told me you'd love another
I'd have said it won't happen

If someone would have said that we wouldn't be together
Except in the picture that stands on my dresser
I would have never believed it, my dear
This time last year

Now, night after night you're here in my dreams
Just like you were back then
But day after day I open my eyes
Only to find I've lost you again

If someone would have said that we wouldn't be together
Except in the picture that stands on my dresser
I would have never believed it, my dear
This time last year
I would have never believed it, my dear
This time last year
