

Arcadia

Roo Panes

Adventures in her dressing gown
Smoke rings in the car
Once upon a time she had a dream called "Arcadia"
Well today's the same old story
Someones trying to win the world
Really not that different from a kid trying to get the girl

There's a postcard on the mantelpiece
It takes a noble bow
With a letter on the back - it doesn't really matter now
She comes in from a late shift
And tumbles into bed
And just rifles through her phone - for the things he never said

Will somebody take her where the roses bloom?
She's only ever heard of hearing "I love you"
Whatever happened to... "Arcadia"?

Whatever happened to "Arcadia"?
