

Ode

Room Eleven

I was never hysterical
I thought myself too smart
But I loved your music
Words right from the heart

Well, sometimes I changed them Into what I want them to be
But you changed something
You changed me

Now I try to be just like you
Though I won't admit it
I've been digging my
heels in the ground
But you knocked me over, you did

Now I try to be just like you
Though I won't admit it
Because I tried to be me all the time
But you won me over, you did

So many voices all of a kind
Make me feel unnecessary
But why leave the telling up to any one but me
I'll shout and I'll sing until they hear me
Now I try to be just like you
Though I won't admit it
I've been digging my
heels in the ground
But you knocked me over, you did

Now I try to be just like you
Though I won't admit it
Because I tried to be me all the time
But you knocked me over, you did

I wrote my name down down a hundred times
But I don't know if there's anybody
Who will remember me
Who will remember me

I wrote my name down a million times
But I don't know if there's anybody
Who will remember me
Who will remember me

Now I try to be just like you
Though I won't admit it
I've been digging my

Now I try to be just like you

Though I won't admit it
Because I try to be me all the time
You knocked me over, you did
You knocked me over, you did
