

Edged in Blue

Rory Gallagher

I've cried enough tears to fill up an ocean
Surely you see that my world's been broken?

Here I am, where are you?
Help me please, help me through
Here I am, where are you?
All my days are edged in blue

You made up your mind and nothing can change it
You want to be free but I can't rearrange it

Here I am, where are you?
Tell me please, what to do
Here I am, broken in two
All my days are edged in blue

I'd go anywhere, if I thought you'd be there
'Cause I've made up my mind, that's where I belong
I traveled the world 'cause couldn't be told
Told by my heart that you really had gone

I'd go anywhere, if I thought you'd be there
'Cause I've made up my mind, that's where I belong
I traveled the world 'cause I couldn't be told
Told by my heart that you really had gone

Our lines got crossed through all things unspoken
A tangle of knots not easily opened

Here I am, where are you?
Help me please, pull me through
Here I am, where are you?
All my days are edged in blue

Here I am, where are you?
Help me please, pull me through
Here I am, where are you?
Can't you see I'm edged in blue?
