

You buried me alive
You left me there to die
And now you're gonna watch me
Breaking through the dirt
A death becomes a birth
You're gonna watch me blossom

There are dark places here
They hold anger, they hold fear
But do not be afraid
For salvation is near

You took everyone I ever loved
Everything I needed
It was you that had me by the throat
I was barely breathing
You thought that I was gonna choke
But I'm still here
And I'm six feet down and screaming

You buried me alive
You left me there to die
And now you're gonna watch me
Breaking through the dirt
A death becomes a birth
You're gonna watch me blossom

As you dance on my grave
I will feed, I will wait

You took everyone I ever loved
Everything I needed
It was you that had me by the throat
I was barely breathing
You thought that I was gonna choke
But I'm still here
And I'm six feet down and screaming

You buried me alive
You left me there to die
And now you're gonna watch me
Breaking through the dirt
A death becomes a birth
You're gonna watch me blossom

Just like the roses in June
Bury me and I'll bloom
Bury me, bury me
Pink flowers over your sky
I'll tower over your lies
Bury me, bury me
Bury me and watch me bloom
