

All the Time It Takes to Wait

Rose Cousins

You and your whiskey
Me and my heart undone
You say that you miss me
I wanna hear that from the sober one

I know you get lonely
I get lonely too
You've got this sadness
You've been holding onto

All the time it takes to wait
All the time

I get so tired
Of trying to save you
Your love wrapped with barbed wire
Buried in all you've been through

But you've got
You and your whiskey
The captain and his first mate
You say that you're sorry
Oh the time it takes to wait