

Memories of You

Rosemary Clooney

Waking skies - at sunrise
Every sunset too
Seems to be - bringing me
Memories of you

Here and there - every where
Scenes that we once knew
And they all - just recall
Memories of you

How I wish I could forget those, those happy yesteryears
That have left a rosary of tears

Your face beams - in my dreams
In spite of all that I do
And everything - seems to bring
Memories of you
