

You Got

Rosemary Clooney

You got what I want
You're the answer to a dream
You got the charms that I adore
You're everything and much more
So, excuse my eyes if they start to gleam

For I like what I see
And what I see is quite a lot
When you're around
My feet don't touch the ground
Oh, what I want is what you got

You got what I crave
You're the firstest with the most
You got the lips I love to kiss
I never had so much bliss
I would like to state you're the perfect host

This feeling is so nice
This paradise just can't be bought
How I desire the love in you inspires
Oh, what I want is what you got

You got
You got
What you've got
