

What You've Been Looking For

Rosie Carney

No one knows what lies ahead
Don't try too hard to see
Close your eyes and go with it
And try to let it be

You will find what you've been looking for
You will find what you've been looking for
It won't hide, it won't hide anymore
You will find what you've been looking for

Be yourself she said to me
Make sure your voice is heard
Be as free as you want to be
And I'll always stand by those words

I will find what I've been looking for
I will find what I've been looking for
It won't hide, it won't hide anymore
I will find what I've been looking for
