

Every Drop Counts

Rosie Thomas

When it's my chance
Will I hear my call
When my turn arrives to drop from the sky
Will I let myself fall
Will I make one splash
Will I move too slow
Will I be brave
Falling from space to the world down below

Oh I have so much to surrender
Right from the start
Every breath of mine numbered
But I know in my heart
Where there's risk there is splendor
Falling from the clouds
With all of my doubts
Hoping every drop counts

So ready or not
When I'm next in line
I'm gonna land
And trust that these hands
Can hold what is mine
I know my plan
May differ from yours
But I won't compare
Like the birds in the air
We all got our own course

Oh I have so much to surrender
Right from the start
Every breath of mine numbered
But I know in my heart
Where there's risk there is splendor
Falling from the clouds
With all of my doubts
Hoping every drop counts

Falling from the clouds
With all of my doubts
Hoping every drop counts
