

Angel By Your Side

Ross Copperman

Five years it's been now since you've seen me
And I know your not the same
Sweet girl I left when I was lost

Stop now, you know you'll never reach me
Since the day I passed away
Nine lives I thought I had now gone

But if you ever feel this angel by your side
I'll be the light
I'll be the sun that fills your morning now
When you lose the strength to fly
I'll be the angel by your side
I'll be the sky
I'll be the star that stares into your eyes
When you go to sleep at night
I'll be the angel by your side
I'll be the angel by your side
(Yeah yeah wahoho woah)

God knows there must have been a reason
As he sucked the life from me
So young and I pray my soul will keep Right now your living with this feeling
And there's no one left to blame
Bad dreams only bring you to your knees

But if you ever feel this angel by your side
I'll be the light
I'll be the sun that fills your morning now
When you lose the strength to fly
I'll be the angel by your side
I'll be the sky
I'll be the star that stares into your eyes
When you go to sleep at night
I'll be the angel by your side
I'll be the angel by your side
(Yeah yeah)

I know you stopped believing
But you've got faith I know I've seen it
At times your lost you've gotta leave the world behind
You've gotta feel me by your side

I'll be the light
I'll be the sun that fills your morning now
When you lose the strength to fly
I'll be the angel by your side
I'll be the sky
I'll be the star that stares into your eyes
When you go to sleep at night
I'll be the angel by your side
I'll be the angel by your side
(Yeah yeah)

I'll be the angel by your side (I'll be the light)
I'll be the angel by your side

I'll be the angel by your side

I'll be the light

I'll be the sun that fills your morning now

When you lose the strength to fly

I'll be the angel by your side

I'll be the sky

I'll be the star that stares into your eyes

When you go to sleep at night
