

Enough Is Never Gonna Be Enough

Ross Copperman

It's always one more lonely front door
Opening when I just need closure
I can touch you but I can't change your mind
'Cause I'm your last cry

I don't wanna try and make my heart beat slowly
Pulling myself away whenever you hold me
I wanna let out every word that I lock inside, yeah
'Cause I feel, what I feel
The more I give you up, the more I want you
It feels like I need you too much
Enough is never gonna be enough

We can live life, turn a blind eye
Fade away with your head on my shoulder
I can take it if you're only mine tonight
You're not mine

I don't wanna try and make my heart beat slowly
Pulling myself away whenever you hold me
I wanna let out every word that I lock inside, yeah
'Cause I feel, what I feel
The more I give you up, the more I want you
It feels like I need you too much
Enough is never gonna be enough

(Enough is never gonna be enough)

I don't wanna try and make my heart beat slowly
Pulling myself away whenever you hold me
I wanna let out every word that I lock inside, yeah
'Cause I feel, what I feel
The more I give you up, the more I want you
It feels like I need you too much
Enough is never gonna be enough

(Enough, enough)

Enough is never gonna be enough
Enough (enough), yeah it's never gonna be (enough)

It's always one more lonely front door
Opening when I just need closure
