

Everything Changes

Ross Copperman

Black coffee in our favorite cups
We used to like the sweeter stuff
Thought I'd say it but you said it first
We look nothing like the way we were

You wanna go to parties now
We used to never leave the couch
Thought you'd say it but I'll say it first
Don't say another word

We're just, we're just different people
We're not innocent people
A thousand sorry's from where we started
I guess we're just going through phases
Wearing different faces
You know everything changes darling
Don't, don't be sad
Cause the time that we had wasn't meant to last
Everything changes, everything changes

You met me at a brighter time
Now you see me in a different light
Hard to see you in a room this dark
It will never be the way it was
Cause you wanna go to parties now

We used to wanna settle down
Thought you'd say it but I said it first
Don't say another word

We're just, we're just different people
We're not innocent people
A thousand sorry's from where we started
I guess we're just going through phases
Wearing different faces
You know everything changes darling
Don't, don't be sad
Cause the time that we had wasn't meant to last
Everything changes, everything changes

So don't, don't be sad
Cause the time that we had wasn't meant to last
Everything changes, everything changes
