

Falling Out

Ross Copperman

Yeah we hurt the ones we wanna heal the most
It's so hard to say we fold
So much harder if we don't
But you don't wanna let go
You play the part they cast you in
You wanna play yourself again
You feel like everybody knows

You're looking for a reason
Everybody's got one
You back me in a corner
Like I barely know you
When I pull you closer
We fight it 'til it's over
We watch each other hurt
But we never wanna learn
I feel you falling
I feel you falling out

I feel us losing innocence
The broken hearts are imminent
I'll only face you when I wanna face the fight again
You rip and twist and turn to cope
Unwind on both ends of the rope
You fall and when you get back up you pull me in

Looking for a reason
Everybody's got one
You back me in a corner
Like I barely know you
When I pull you closer
We fight it 'til it's over
We watch each other hurt
But we never wanna learn
I feel you falling
I feel you falling out

Sometimes I know
I wanna let you go
I wanna let you go
But I don't

I wanna let you fall
I wanna let you fall
I wanna let you fall
I wanna let you fall
