

My Love Will

Ross Copperman

When you feel like a tear dropped in the ocean
Like a match lit and tossed in the middle of a wildfire
Like if you scream right now who would even notice
It's alright
Baby it's alright

Whenever you feel like that
Like nobody's got your back
You know where to run
You know where to crumble in the dark
When the world won't stitch your heart back up
My love will
My love will
You know where to land
You know where to step outside the rain
When your wings can't catch and break your fall
My love will
My love will
Yeah

Life's pretty good stacked in the odds against you
You give it your best but sometimes it's not enough
You think about hanging that white flag out the window
You're giving up
Baby don't give up

Whenever you feel like that
Like nobody's got your back
You know where to run
You know where to crumble in the dark
When the world won't stitch your heart back up
My love will
My love will
You know where to land
You know where to step outside the rain
When your wings can't catch and break your fall
My love will
My love will

When you ride out in the middle of the night
And the dream you lost can't hold you tight
Just be still
Baby my love will
And when you look down that road we rode
You wonder what will carry your song
Cause it all looks uphill
Our love will
Yeah
Our love will

You know where to run
When the world won't stitch your heart back up
My love will
My love will
You know where to land

When your wings won't catch and break your fall
My love will
My love will
Yeah

Oooh
Oooh
Oooh
