

Secrets (Stripped)

Ross Copperman

Sometimes I think I'm living someone else's life
There's a stranger in the mirror
And I say a lot of things I don't believe sometimes
How did I get here?

Truth is, maybe I'm scared of love
Scared of what will become
Honestly, maybe I said too much
That's who I was before us

Baby, you got all my secrets
Baby, you know all my shadows and scars
Now there ain't nothing in between us
Baby, you got all my secrets

Every now and then, I lie awake at night
Wonder why I even bother
I get a little stubborn, I got too much pride
Am I becoming like my father?

Truth is, maybe I'm scared of love
Scared of what will become
Honestly, maybe I said too much
That's who I was before us

Baby, you got all my secrets
Baby, you know all my shadows and scars
Now there ain't nothing in between us
Baby, you got all my secrets

The only one who knows all that I have been through
I don't know what it is, it makes tell you, tell you, tell you

Baby, you got all my secrets
Baby, you know all my shadows and scars
Now there ain't nothing in between us
Baby, you got all my secrets
Baby, you got all my secrets
