

Disagree

Rotersand

Time and time again
Like a fly against the window
You're forgetting where you've been Chasing 'round in circles caught within

Running from the pain
You leave yourself in limbo
Disregard the truth you've seen
Hiding in the dark to save your skin

Stuck in yesterday
You're wasting your tomorrow
All the self that you can be
Worn out a silent pointless fight

It's time to break away
To leave your poky burrow
In the darkness you can't see
But right behind your blinders there's a light

Still you feed your soul with poisoned food
You just can't get enough
You crawl in chains
Believing you are free

So many times you've had enough
Your vision blurred with every bluff
Got to get alive
And learn to disagree