

Open

Like the way you speak to my body, devotion
Like the waves when the moon hits the ocean
You take me to a place, got me caught in my emotions

'Cause I've been running from the evils
Yeah, I know a lot of people
They always want something, times two
The way that you wind it
Oh, you hit me blindsided
'Cause if I had zero
Still got you

I give you one hundred
One hundred, one hundred
I give you one hundred
One hundred, one hundred
Just ask when you want it
You want it, you want it
Just ask when you want it
I got you

Take you just as you are
I know the real ones from the fake
You're something from the stars
How'd you escape heavens gate?
