

Believe In Yourself

Roy Ayers

Sometimes you will find yourself wanting to express your mind
Sometimes you will surely see the true reality
Yeah, yeah, yeah

Without patience, there's no self-control
Without guidance, there's no room to grow
You gotta have faith to believe, hope to achieve

Sometimes you will find yourself wanting to express your mind
Sometimes you will surely see the true reality

Without goodness, how can one bad?
If you love me, why are you so sad?
Just believe me and have faith in me
Then you could see true reality

Without music, how can one enjoy
Happy feelings can be shared by all?
Without wanting, can you feel the need?
Without wanting, can you feel the need?
Can you feel the need? Can you feel the need?
Can you feel the need? Can you feel the need?
Can you feel the need? Can you feel the need?
Can you feel the need to be free?

Without patience, there's no self-control
Without guidance, there's no room to grow
You gotta believe in yourself

Without patience, there's no self-control
Without guidance, there's no room to grow
You gotta believe in yourself
You gotta believe in yourself

Without patience, there's no self-control
Without guidance, there's no room to grow
You gotta believe in yourself
You gotta believe in yourself

Believe in yourself
Believe in yourself
Believe in yourself

Sometimes you will find yourself wanting to express your mind
Sometimes you will surely see the true reality

Without patience, there's no self-control
Without guidance, there's no room to grow
Without faith, how can one believe?
Without hope, how can one achieve?
Without goodness, how can one be bad?
If you love me, why are you so sad?
Just believe me and have faith in me
When you could see true reality
Without music, how can one enjoy?
Without music, how can one enjoy?
