

Kwajilori

Roy Ayers

Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori

The Kwajilori Twins
Are daughters of the Sun that came to Earth one day
They came so they could play with the children of clay
So alike were these twins, they shared the same shadow
And talked in harmony
The radiance of their smile was almost blinding
The other children found it hard to see
Their inner beauty, but still they laughed and played
Until the Sun would take [?] away
The magical smiling and loving one-to-one
Inspired [?] to want of self

Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony

With their songs of wisdom the Kwajilori shed their light on the children
Teaching them how to sing in harmony
The Kwajilori smile became the way of showing inner beauty
That's why when children love, they show it by smiling
You try this special smile and you too will see
It works like magic on all who can behold
The meaning of the story I have told
The magic of smiling and loving one-to-one
Inspired [?] to want of self

Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori

Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony

Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony
Kwajilori
Kwajilori harmony