

Oh What a Lonely Feeling

Roy Ayers

Oh, what a lonely feeling
Without you in my life
I'm so lonely without you
The blues got my mind
Oh, what a lonely feeling
Without you in my life
Your maddening love style
Is keeping me blind

Love of my life
You seem to have a game
That touches me inside
Turning passion to pain

Oh, what a lonely feeling
Without you in my life
I'm so lonely without you
The blues got my mind
But when you ain't easy
And the pain ain't fun
But you know, baby
You're the only one, yes you are now

Love of my life
You seem to have a game
That touches me inside
Turning passion to pain
You took me for granted
Even from the start
You don't even care, no you don't
When you're breaking my heart

Oh, what a lonely feeling
Without you in my life
I'm so lonely without you
The blues got my mind
Oh, what a lonely feeling
Without you in my life
Your maddening love style
Is keeping me blind

Love of my life
You seem to have a game, baby
It touches me inside
Turning passion into pain
You took me, for granted, baby
Even, even, even from the start
And you didn't even, you didn't even
You didn't care, when you broked around and broke my heart, no

(Need you, baby, need you) Oh no you don't (Want you, baby, want you) I know you don't (Love you, baby, love you) Oh, you don't (Need you, baby, need you)

After all is said and done, yeah
You know you're the only one, yeah baby

After all, is said and done
I know that you, you're gonna be the only one
After all is said and done
I believe in, how you're gonna be the only one
