

Help

Roy Blair

She wipes the blood off my face again
She doesn't mind that I'm late again
She knows (she knows)
That I won't (I won't)
Ever leave her side
Yeah, eh
Oh no, (she knows)
'Cause I don't (cause I don't)
One day I just might

So I'll stop by for a bit
And then I'll get to it
'Cause I promised myself
That I wouldn't need your help
That I wouldn't need your help
I don't need your help, your help

Fuck that and fuck this
This is why you're so quick, too quick, jump ship
Or make assumptions
Probably some abandonment issues to why you dumped him
Plus he forgot all about you until that run in Knew there was something
Bubbling under the surface
When he sees the curtain close, he knows you're hurtin'
Show your true colours when you play me like an SD
Noticed that's your problem
But this train runnin' on empty

I lost 17 years of my life to my hatred
So complacent
Mistakes, oh mistakes
But I know now I'm nothing but great
So fuck stoppin'
I don't need you or anybody else's help
'Cause
Helps been inside me all along

So I'll stop by for a bit
And then I'll get to it
'Cause I promised myself
That I wouldn't need your help
That I wouldn't need your help
I don't need your help, your help
So I'll stop by for a bit
And then I'll get to it
'Cause I promised myself
That I wouldn't need your help
That I wouldn't need your help
I don't need your help, your help
Ooh
