

Vans

Roy Blair

Out of all the things I've had the urge to say
Only "sorry" will make the light of day
Wish you looked at me when you said that it's okay
To be fair, life's unfair and sort of give-or-take

But I still feel out of place
Yeah, yeah
It's the same feeling
That got me out of bed (got me out of bed)
It told me not to listen to my friends
Pass the city limit
God had nothing left, ooh
Just give me one more dance (just one more dance)

Something on my vans
Something on my vans
Something on my vans
Something on my vans

Vans (I know you're ready for it)
Something on my vans (I know you think you love me, yeah)
Something on my vans (I know you're ready for it)
It's melting on my vans (I know you think you love me)
