

Our Everlasting Love Has Died

Roy Drusky

There's something wrong now all the feeling's gone now
There's nothing left now but a trace of cry
And it's too late now we're face to face with fate now
Dreams lyin' state now our everlasting love has died

All hope is scattered now in a world that's shattered now
The things that matter now seem so hard to hide
But it's too late now let's don't turn to hate now
There's nothing more at stake now our everlasting love has died
