

One More Tomorrow

Roy Harper

There was a time
When you ran after me
And we could run
I took you for granted
In my fantasy
(but) Those days are gone
I love you I love you I love you
My darling and I miss you so
I'll shed these last tears tonight
On your pillow
For without you I am a shadow
I will not make
One more tomorrow
Since you've been gone
I've been wasting away in agony
Reliving memories of many a day
You'd say to me
I love you I love you I love you
My darling and I need you so
Will you lay me down tonight
On your pillow
For without you I am a shadow
Please help me through
True love tomorrow
I've got so got so down
I feel paralysed
I'm hardly here
Nailed to a nightmare
That's immobilized
Living in fear
I love you I love you I love you
My darling
Out I feel so low
I don't trust myself tonight
On your pillow
For without you
Life has no meaning
Without you
My heart will break
Without you
Your helpless shadow
Just might not make
One more tomorrow
