

A True Love Goodbye

Roy Orbison

A young couple stood under stars in the sky
They pledged their love with tears in their eyes
For this was a true-love goodbye

They stood there trembling and couldn't speak
She tip-toed and kissed his cheek
For this was a true-love goodbye

A true-love goodbye, they tried not to cry
With words so true, they both said, "I love you."

Then they parted both broken-hearted
But they'll meet again some day, some way
Beyond this true-love goodbye

A true-love goodbye, they tried not to cry
With words so true, they both said, "I love you."

Then they parted both broken-hearted
But they'll meet again some day, some way
Beyond this true-love goodbye

True love, true-love goodbye
Bye, my love...
