

If I Had A Woman Like You

Roy Orbison

Hey young and innocent girl
You don't even know that I'm around
One loving your world and he doesn't know what he has found
Oh, I need you so
But you wear a gold wedding ring

If I had a woman, if I had a woman
If I had a woman, a woman like you

True, you love your man
You love him true like no one can
Uh, what I would do to be in be in his shoes but I understand
You're beautifully bound
Tied up to love's silver chain

If I had a woman, if I had a woman
If I had a woman, a woman like you

Twilight finds me alone
Midnight and I'm on my own
I have numbers to phone but I don't have a woman like you
I don't have a woman like you

Lie, I'd tell a lie
If I said I did not love you
I know very well why all of my dreams cannot come true
Here, I need you here
But you wear a clear diamond stone
If I had a woman, if I had a woman
If I had a woman, a woman like you
