

Sign Of Yesterday

Royal Hunt

We're looking for changes but what if there's nothing more to find?

Surrounded by strangers while all what we've had is left behind

What are you looking for? Still afraid?

Not anymore

No reason, no goodbye - just walk away... I see it as a sign of yesterday

As right behind us tables turning, bridges burning - look another way

So little to forgive, so much to say... just leave behind this sign of yesterday

Above it all the sun is blazing while erasing every single sign of yesterday

One way or another we seem to forgive and then - forget

I'm looking no further for ways to return...

At least not yet

What are waiting for?

Go ahead and close the door

No reason, no goodbye - just walk away... I see it as a sign of yesterday

As right behind us tables turning, bridges burning - look another way

So little to forgive, so much to say... just leave behind this sign of yesterday
