

Don't know how it happened but I guess this summer's over
Yeah, it's eighty in LA but you feel a little colder
Try to be a real cool girl and laugh it off like nothing hurts, but I already miss you when my head is on your shoulder

I could go slow if that's what you want
But you never gave me a shot, babe
I could be sweet if that's your type
Whatever you like

Still in a summer state of mind
But the days keep getting shorter
See September in your eyes
Fading lights and all I know is
It's been you since June
It's been you since June, yeah

You keep secrets like you keep my attention
So straightforward, always keep me guessing
And if we're playing a game, I never knew the rules, uh
I put in what I thought that I was getting It's the nice guys that always need forgetting
But you were never really that nice, were you?

And I could go slow if that's what you want
But you never gave me a shot, babe
I did all the work, but still I got hurt
I guess you were never mine, babe

Still in a summer state of mind
But the days keep getting shorter
See September in your eyes
Fading lights and all I know is
It's been you since June
It's been you since June, yeah

Don't know how it happened but I guess the summer's over
Yeah, it's eighty in LA but you feel a little colder
Now I think about those nights at the springs, the rosé you were tasting on me
Couple months till it all came out, you plus the girl I didn't know about She's on your lap at our best friends' wedding, huh, guess you're good at fo rgetting
I got played and downplayed, you got laid and unscathed

Still in a summer state of mind
But the days keep getting shorter
See September in your eyes
Fading lights and all I know is
It's been you since June
It's been you since June

Hey, hey yeah, hey
Hey yeah, hey yeah, hey
Hey, hey yeah, hey
Hey yeah
