

End Scene

Ruel

Looking through the glass
We got here so fast
No use tryna do it over
We ain't getting older
We lost all control
Wish I had known
That the road would hit the sunset
Are we having fun yet?

Oh, I still remember
Who we were, who we were
There's blood on your sweater I can't get off
But it reminds me of the first time

When did we stop giving a fuck about losing our minds?
Our minds
Remember I jumped out of the car to prove I was alive
And it reminds me of the first time

Buildings falling down
Always thought we'd drown
Either way we're going under
Still going under
Loved you till the end
We can still pretend everything is gonna be fine

How close can we get to closure?
Who knows
Oh, I'm on the edge looking over
And it reminds me of the first time

When did we stop giving a fuck about losing our minds?
Our minds
Remember I jumped out of the car to prove I was alive
And it reminds me of the first time

Watching it all fall apart
We've been falling from the start
Watching it all fall apart
We've been falling from the start
Watching it all fall apart
We've been falling from the start
Watching it all fall apart
We've been falling from the start
