

Congratulations

Ruff Endz

I see you moving on, my congratulations
We gave up holding on, the train has left the station

Moving on
Yeah, moving on
We're moving on
Moving on, baby
Oh, yeah

All your exes, they was hating
Baby, I'm congratulating
Baby, our love has faded
Girl, it's sad we didn't make it
We both agreed just to walk away
There was too much confrontation
Lonely nights, lonely days
Too much arguing, debating

But now I've found the right woman
And you've found the right man
We was arguing for nothing
But this was part of God's plan
It's really good to see your face
And I really wanna say

I see you moving on, my congratulations
We gave up holding on, the train has left the station

Moving on
Yeah, moving on
We're moving on
Moving on, baby
Oh, yeah

Glad you got what you been looking for
Glad you got what you need
Glad you got your knight in shining armor
Even if it wasn't me
I'm glad you made the best of life
Wishing you godspeed
I wish you well on your endeavors
I'm hoping you succeed

Girl, I can't even say
I'm feeling some sorta way
When I saw you in your white dress
The beautiful bouquet
Found out while on the 'Gram today
Your dad was giving you away

I see you moving on, my congratulations
We gave up holding on, the train has left the station

Moving on
Yeah, moving on
We're moving on

Sometimes, some people are not meant to be together
And sometimes, some people are not meant to stay
And sometimes, hearts can turn cold like the dead of winter
And sometimes, life teaches you to let go and move on

Moving on
Moving on
Moving on

I see you moving on, my congratulations
