

June It's Gonna Happen

Rumer

Talk about dragging his feet
I thought that old man would never go
He froze out April
And he cold-shouldered May
June, it must have been the
Heat of your smile
That chased him away
Tonight I feel let out of school
With all summer to play

June, I can feel it in my blood
Expectations rising with the moon
Prayers and wishes flit like
Moths in the night
Something in my soul is
Being attracted to angel firelight
Fire I see burning bright
In the green of your eyes

Better hold on
June it's gonna happen
The whole wide world
Is opening its arms up
The horizon
Is rolling towards us like a wave
Better hold on
June it's gonna happen
Better hold on
Summer's gonna carry us away

Endless possibilities
Maybe I was always meant for you
Always staring at
The future face-to-face
Maybe I have found the secret of life
In the curve of your waist
There's something that's tied up in me
I think you might unlace

Better hold on
June it's gonna happen
The whole wide world
Is opening their arms up
The horizon
Is rolling towards us like a wave
Better hold on
June it's gonna happen
Better hold on
Summer's gonna carry us away

Better hold on
June it's gonna happen
Better hold on
Carry us away
