

Forget Me

rum.gold

Tell me, what's the point of a life
If I'm dead in your eyes?
All I do is think of you and cry
Felt like we had nothing but time
Let the minutes go by Never got to say goodbye

I don't wanna break my promise again
Waiting on a life that just might end
I don't wanna see my name in stone
Now we're both alone

Just please don't forget me
Till death seemed so easy
It hurts me to see your pain
I know you think you're to blame
Though we aren't together
I'll be yours forever
If ever you feel alone
Just know I'll be coming home
Just don't forget me (Just don't)
Just don't forget me

Forever by your side, but I know
That you gotta let go
Life is all around you, you
Try to find a moment of peace
'Cause you're all that you need
I do not define you

I don't wanna break my promise again
Waiting on a life that just might end
I don't wanna see my name in stone
Now we're both alone

Just try to forget me
Oh, you have my blessing
It hurts me to see your pain
I know you think you're to blame
Though we aren't together
I'll be yours forever
I wish you could hear me say
"Dry your tears and walk away"

You taught me to love
In spite of myself
So reach out your hand
I'll show you to the well
A free flowing light
Forever in bloom
Wipe off your tears
There's power in the tomb

Just try to forget me
Just don't, just don't
Try to forget me
Don't

Just try to forget me
Don't

Don't forget
Don't forget
Me
Please don't forget me
