

Perfect

Run River North

Every now and then you'll see it
Glimpses of lives you wanted
Picture perfect on the surface
Breaks apart when you try holding

You try and tell me you don't deserve it
When I can see all your ambition
You're looking out for all of the exits
And they're too far away

Ain't it perfect?
Is it worth it?
Ain't it perfect?
Is it worth it?
Ain't it perfect?
(Is it worth it?)
Ain't it perfect?
Is it worth it?

When no one is around to see it
Pieces that have no purpose
Falling into places unwanted
But it's way too late

Calling it off when you know that you want it
Falling apart as it's just getting started
Calling it off when you know that you want it
Falling apart as it's just getting started

Ain't it perfect?
Is it worth it?
Ain't it perfect?
Is it worth it?
(Ain't it perfect?)

You keep telling yourself you're getting older (Is it worth it?)
And the feeling you have, it won't last (Ain't it perfect?)
Before the best part of this is almost over (Is it worth it?)
It's perfect when you don't hold back
(Ain't it perfect?)
(Always falling into this)
(Falling into this)
(Ain't it perfect?)
(Always falling into this)
