Signs

Running Touch

I got so damn tired of just looking down, so in love
When you said your name I knew enough, you started it

You should know the names, the ones that I've been hiding
I've said enough, now don't you come and find me

No, I know you're ready to go, I threw away the signs
And no, I didn't say I'd let you know
I know you said it but I can't be sure you know, didn't know
No, I know you're ready to go, I threw away the signs
And no, I didn't say I'd let you know
I know you said it but I can't be sure you know, didn't know

No
Yeah I saw the signs
Yeah I saw you, yes I did

In an off white room we said it all, lost
Was a night on fire, we set it off, lost

You should know the names, the ones that I've been hiding
I've said enough, now don't you come and find me

There's no cure tonight, no, not a breath for me
The bind's tight, in my head it rings

And I lied, you were right
And no I know you're ready to go, I threw away the signs
And no you won't find me

No, no, no
Yeah I saw the signs
Yeah I saw you
Yes I did

No, I know you're ready to go, I threw away the signs
