

Everytime a Heartbeats

RuPaul

Come to me, as you are, a shooting star
Temporarily time traveling
Your energy I've seen before
I recognize it from another life
I recall when you could see through my eyes

Synchronized, I don't know what it means
But you are here with me, dreaming the same dream
And I'm not afraid, one day we will be gone
The only thing that will live on
Is love we gave and love received

Isn't it a shame nothing lasts forever
Why can't we go back where we started from
Everytime a heart beats, my soul remembers
Once upon a time when we were one

I'm reminded
Time to time that we're divine by the silence
I admit it feels different
Lying next to you, I cherish you
Keep my promise to us both
To wake you up before I go
Such a tragedy
How soon the ones who dream forget they're dreaming na na na
In the awakening we'll go back to who we are
Every one a shooting star
An extension of the power of love

Isn't it a shame nothing lasts forever
Why can't we go back where we started from
Everytime a heart beats, my soul remembers
Once upon a time when we were one
