

Under The Sun

Ruston Kelly

So you saw your shadow
And it followed you
Sunk in like an arrow
You couldn't pry it loose

I know you think you've let all of them down
I know you believe you won't figure this out
But I'm here to say, "What if you could?"

If it hurts either way
What's the point in dragging it out?
Let it fade under the sun
Don't let me catch you crying in the twilight
It's almost over
Brighter days still will come
There are brighter days still to come

Sunk into the dirt
You're just skin and bones
So you called to the Spirit
"Come in and make me whole"

I know you think you've let all of them down
I know you believe you won't figure this out
But I'm here to say, "What if you could?"

If it hurts either way
What's the point in dragging it out?
Let it fade under the sun
Don't let me catch you crying in the twilight
It's almost over
Brighter days still will come
There are brighter days still to come

If it hurts either way
What's the point in dragging it out?
Let it burn under the sun
Don't let me catch you crying in the twilight
It's almost over
Brighter days still will come
There are brighter days still to come
There are brighter days still to come
