

Princess Peach

Ruth B.

Met you in the heart of summer
Knew that you weren't like the others
When you told me that my mind was different
And I knew that you really meant it
But I go back to my antics
Being a skeptic
Because I don't believe in make believe
But when I met you in the heart of summer
I knew you weren't like the others

I've got walls for my walls but they fall as I fall for you
I've got walls for my walls but they fall as I fall for you

I like to rescue myself
I've always been my own hero
I'm scared of asking for help
Even when I'm stuck at zero
I had no intentions of falling so deep
I'm not a princess
But I'll be your peach

Never been the best with feelings
But I don't want to fight the real thing
I know matters of the heart are fragile
I'm praying that you stay awhile
Even when I don't make sense
Playing the defense
I want you around no I need you around
Cause I've never been the best with feelings
But I don't want to fight the real thing

I've got walls for my walls, but they fall as I fall for you
I've got walls for my walls, but they fall as I fall for you

I like to rescue myself
I've always been my own hero
I'm scared of asking for help
Even when I'm stuck at zero
I had no intentions of falling so deep
I'm not a princess

Yeah, met you in the heart of summer
Knew that you weren't like the others
When you told me that my mind was different
And I knew that you really meant it, yeah

I like to rescue myself
I've always been my own hero
I want to rescue myself
I want to be my own hero
