

Flaws

RuthAnne

I got so many flaws
Now that you've seen them all
Do you wanna stay
Or will you push away?
'Cause I get too many thoughts
And I can't seem to switch 'em off
So can I speak freely?
I know I'm over-thinking

But I got layers as deep as the ocean
And I get scared from all my emotions
I'm stubborn when we fight, I think I'm always right
But you're still here, loving me for me

Yes, once my tears get involved
Flowing like waterfalls
If they're run freely
Will you still believe me
The honeymoon is over
And as I'm growing older
Will you still love me
Like you did when you met me

'Cause I change moods with never good reason
I'm hot and so cold like the changing seasons
I just can't make up my mind and I'm never on time
But you're still here loving me for me

I'm selfish but so are you
I be difficult but you are too
I'm scared to love, yeah, it true
But so are you, so are you, yeah, so are you
I'm crazy but so are you
You make me, yes you do
I'm in love, but so are you
And I want you

But I got many flaws
Now that you feel 'em all
Do you wanna keep me
Or trade me for a new thing
Despite all my bad things
The good is overpowering
I'm giving you all of me
The good, the bad, the ugly

But I got flaws and you can see 'em all
But I got flaws and you can see 'em all
