

Your Beginning

RuthAnne

Rejection is a gift sometimes
Even tho it hurts
It's just the universe giving you a sign
For better not for worse

Sometimes the things we think we want
Are not always what we need
And Sometimes the places that we land
Are where we're meant to be

Oh the love you've lost
Paths that didn't cross
And the great plans that didn't go to plan
And the dreams you shared
Turned into nightmares
All the money you watched slip from your hands
I know it feels like the end
But what if it's your beginning...

Acceptance is a gift sometimes
Even tho it hurts
Isn't it better just to let it go
Before your heart bursts

Sometimes the ones we think we want
Are the ones who don't believe
But the best thing comin' for you
Is waiting in the wings

Oh the love you've lost
Paths that didn't cross
And the great plans that didn't go to plan
And the dreams you shared
Turned into nightmares
All the money you watched slip from your hands
I know it feels like the end
I promise it's your beginning
