

Paper Thin

RVIVR

Rip out your heart
Show you the skin
Perfect pulsing paper thin
Pull out your eyes
How the light does shine
Inside those gaping holes: your brilliant mind

"There's no time, we'll never be fine
This world's just a disaster in disguise..."
And you don't know
And we're scared of the unknown
Well I know you know more than you think you know

Cuz your hollow bones
Can't leave the sky alone
Your feathers falling for the ground below
I'll see you sometimes
We'll fall in side by side
It's daytime and the sun shines in your eyes

We've got time
There's plenty of time
We'll eat the whole world with our eyes
You don't know
I know you know
You don't think so
Well I think so

We'll all die
Everything good dies
Just now feel that bloody warmth
Makes you alive
