

Atmosphere

Rxseboy

I've been floating in the atmosphere
Maybe I should leave cause I don't know
What has been happening here
People looking up in me like
Homie you should face your fears
I'm thinking that they're right
Because my future's looking very clear
(Yeah)

I've been floating in the atmosphere
Maybe I should leave cause I don't know
What has been happening here
People looking up in me like
Homie you should face your fears
I'm thinking that they're right
Because my future's looking very clear
(Hey)

My whole life I've been the greatest
Never noticed until I became
The one that was hated
Shining brighter than diamonds
In negative situations
I play my music so loud
Sounds like orchestras on occasion

Thinking we'll now be patient
Never get in their faces
You're working for tiny wages
I'm working like it's vacation
My purpose is to inspire
Noticed that in my brain
And when people ask me a question
I answer like nothings changed

I've had the ceiling
Everyone want to steal it
Build it up like a castle
And keep it from all the villains
Felling so interstellar
The pillars of my creation
Our music passion acceptance
Reflection is staying patient

Never do it for money
Money is coming later
Write my name on some paper
They sell it to make the paper
My music is just a statement
Listen to be enlightened
I think about every cadence
And use all my [?] writing

I've been floating in the atmosphere
Maybe I should leave cause I don't know
What has been happening here
People looking up in me like

Homie you should face your fears
I'm thinking that they're right
Because my future's looking very clear
(Yeah)

I've been floating in the atmosphere
Maybe I should leave cause I don't know
What has been happening here
People looking up in me like
Homie you should face your fears
I'm thinking that they're right
Because my future's looking very clear

Writing songs 'bout my life
Writing songs 'bout my future wives
But they're never my type
My muse is good
But never good enough
To build up the height
These lyrics that I recite
Are like memories at a party
Forgotten throughout the night

I feel intoxicated
Probably shouldn't drink a lot
The thoughts are finna killing me
And I'm not even famous yet
I may regret the money spent
On things I should have never bought
I pray to god the reaper
Doesn't come around and slay my friends

I wanna keep them close
Because they told me they were staying
That just means the most
They wanna help me make a change
So let me make a toast
To everybody in my lane
You guys are truly dope
And now it's time to go

It's time to spread the name
Discover other ways
To try and ease the pain
I know they feel the same
I want a lot of things
So let me go and get them
Used to be the one to follow
Now I'm transcendent

I've been floating in the atmosphere
Maybe I should leave cause I don't know
What has been happening here
People looking up in me like
Homie you should face your fears
I'm thinking that they're right
Because my future's looking very clear
(Yeah)

I've been floating in the atmosphere
Maybe I should leave cause I don't know
What has been happening here
People looking up in me like

Homie you should face your fears
I'm thinking that they're right
Because my future's looking very clear
(Hey)
